GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

WAYNE ROOT ALLEN

"Trapper"

Franklin Printers' Guild 5.

"Trapper" is one of those big silent men from the "plains." He was a valuable member of the Franklin Printers' Guild. "Trapper's" wit will certainly be missed in the classroom of 1938.

ELLA MARY ARCHER

"Lee"

"Lee" has smiled her way into our hearts. She has a friendly word and a sympathetic ear for everyone. Although "Lee" has been rather quiet around school, we know that the great outside holds many attractions for her. Success and happiness, "Lee"!

NANCY LETITIA AYER

"Nan"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 4; Exponent 4; Year Book Staff 4; "Trial By Jury" 1; "Skidding" 4; Dramatic Club 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Silver G 4.

Look for a tall girl bubbling over with fun and friendliness and you'll find "Nan". She has spent her four years in making new friends and keeping the old. She has been one of the pillars of the Glee Club and The Exponent. Remember, "Nan", we're all for you.

MINNIE PRISCILLA BABCOCK

"Prissy"

We all envy Priscilla's cool, calm, and collected frame of mind just before Chemistry tests. She is always willing to help a fellow student in distress with her cheerful smile. All kinds of luck from the Class of '37, "Prissy".

HELENE MAY BABINO

"Babs"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2.

She may be little, but—yes, she's that snappy little blonde from Room 14. Helene and her gum starred in the intramurals. Confidentially, she's a grand pal and is going to make a place for herself in the business world. Here's to you, Helene!

WILLIAM ERNEST BALL

"Bill"

Good arguments will be much fewer next year without "Bill". Perhaps the fact that he is one of the noisiest of the auto repair group contributes to his popularity among the vocational students. In any case we'll be sure to hear a lot from "Bill" in the future.

RICHARD LAWRENCE BARBER

"Dick"

Intramural Basketball 2.

This tall, blond, good looking Senior refuses to give the women a break. However, we hear that he's a fisherman of no mean ability. We know that "Dick" will do big things in his own little way.

DORIS MAE BARNES

"Dodo"

Intramural Hockey 1, 2; Glee Club 4; "Trial By Jury" 1.

"Dodo's" middle name should be "Friendly." Her quick smile and cheerful manner have earned her many friends. She was active in the intramural and hockey games. We all wish you the best of luck, "Dodo."

NELSON PAUL BERNARD
"Nell"

Baseball 1, 5, 4; Football 4; Intramurals 4.

Bang! Crack! Boom! Knock Knock. That's "Nell" Bernard coming. A nice "quiet" boy who shakes the school when he just grinds his teeth. All the boys are his pals and many girls wish they were. He'll probably be president some day.

LOUISE ELIZABETH BETTERS
"Gaga"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2; Exponent 5, 4; Year Book 4; Dance Committee 4; Alpha Beta Pi 5, 4; Science Club 5; Chorus 4, 2; Guidance Council 4. (Vice President).

"Gaga" Betters once said she wanted to be a nurse. Now she just wants to take care of "Bill" Stiles. Anyone wouldn't mind being sick if he could have as pretty a nurse as Louise hanging around.

DOROTHY HOPE BOLTON
"Dot"

Pro Merito 4; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 5, 4; Year Book Staff 4; Glee Club 2; Delta Sigma Rho 1, 2, 5, 4. (President 2); Guidance Council 5, 4; Silver G 4.

With her sweet disposition and friendly smile, "Dot" has won many friends in the Greenfield High School. She has taken an active interest in school affairs and plans to become a nurse. We know that with her winning ways she will surely be a success.

ALICE ROSE BONCEK
"Al"

"Al" has been cut out to be a second Ginger Rogers. If you've never seen her dance, you're missing one of the greatest things in your life. Her twinkling feet are going to carry her a long way and as long as there's music with it, "Al" will be satisfied.

WILLIAM JAMES BARRY, Jr.
"Bill"

Wherever there's a racket, you can be sure "Bill" is around somewhere. His good old slap on the back is familiar and so is his habit of eating the girls' potato chips. He and the other "Bills" have been pals for many years, and let's hope we keep on seeing him around.

BARBARA ROSE BARUZZI
"Barbara"

Pro Merito 5, 4; Intramural Basketball 1; Exponent 5, 4; Year Book 4; Alpha Beta Pi 4; Glee Club 5, 4; Winter Concert 5, 4; Guidance Council 2; Silver G 4.

If brains were money, Barbara would be a millionaire. Not only has she brains, but she has a nice personality that no one can help liking. It's been very nice having such a pleasing, pleasant person around.

STEPHANIA MARY BEDNARSKI
"Steffy"

Field Hockey 1; Intramural Basketball 1, 4.

There's no question as to "Steffy's" being one of the sweetest and cutest girls in the class. Not only that, but she's clever, too. You can depend on "Steffy" to pop up with a funny remark right in the nick of time. She's bound to have a good time in whatever she plans to undertake.

ANNA CAROLINE BEHAYLO
"Tommy"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2; Art Club 1, 4.

"I Found a Million Dollar Baby in the Five and Ten Cent Store." That applies to "Tommy" Behaylo. Between school and Kresge's, her time is pretty much taken up. But "Tommy" still has a little time left to waste on the boys and there are plenty waiting around.

GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

DOROTHY LOUISE BOND

"Dot"

Science Club 2, 3, 4; Alpha Beta Pi 3, 4 (Secretary 4); Archery Club 2. "Dot" is one of our most popular pupils. She attends many dances and never has trouble in finding an escort. Greenfield High School will certainly miss "Dot" when she leaves.

WINONA CAPEN BONNER

"Winnie"

Pro Merito 3, 4; Intramural Basketball 1; Year Book Staff 4; Glee Club 1. "Winnie", one of the tiniest girls in our class, is a friendly person who always makes friends with everyone around her. At any basketball game she can be found eating "Mounds", her favorite candy bar. Her disposition is just as sweet as this candy.

ELIZABETH FRANCES BONNEVILLE

"Betty"

Commercial Club 3, 4.

"Betty" is one of the happy-go-lucky people who never seem to have a care. You can always find her riding around in her car or joking with a group of friends. With her keen sense of humor she should succeed in whatever she undertakes.

SOPHIE NANCY BOROWSKI

"Lulu"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Field Hockey 1, 2; Intramural Tennis 1, 2; "Trial By Jury" 1; Sophomore Entertainment 2; Junior Entertainment 3; Glee Club 1, 2; Chorus 1, 2; Cheer Leader 4.

"Lulu" is one of our athletically inclined girls who has proved her ability in this line by participating in many sports. She is often seen at the Gables roller-skating. Art is one of her major interests and she hopes to go to a modeling school when she graduates.

GERTRUDE RITA BOSTLEY

"Gert"

Pro Merito 3, 4; Gregg Theory Certificate 4; "Sunset by Slantsky" 2; Commercial Club 3, (President 4); Dramatic Club 3, 4; Junior Guidance Council 5.

As one of the brightest students in our class, "Gert" has proved herself an excellent scholar. With her good humor, she has made numerous friends in school. We are sure she will have no difficulty in the future with her many aptitudes.

LOIS ANITA BOUKER

"Lois"

Intramural Basketball 2; Delta Sigma Rho 1, 2, 3.

Lois is that noisy girl from Room 14, who can always find something to laugh about. Although she appears to be quiet, to those who don't know her, she is quite different among friends. With her friendly disposition she should succeed anywhere.

WILLIAM FRANCIS BOWE

"Bill"

Track 3, 4.

Don't you like "Bill's" Southern drawl? You can catch up on your sleep while he's finishing his sentence. But can he be noisy when he wants to be. He's one of the "Bills" that can be found everywhere and anywhere. "Major Bowes" has nothing on "Bill". He'd get the prize every time.

ELIZABETH MYRTLE BRAY

"Lizzy"

Pro Merito 3, 4; Intramural Basketball 1; Art Club 2, 3, 4 (Treasurer 3, Vice President 4); Commercial Club 4.

What will "Our Gang" do, now that they won't have "Lizzie" to tease any more? "Liz" always was a good sport, though, and took it like a soldier. It'll be tough, not seeing her walking along the corridors any more.

RICHARD JAMES BURNS
"Flatfoot"

Intramural Basketball 3, 4; Football 3, 4; Golf Team 2, 3, 4.
Curly-haired "Rich", who has managed to keep out of the social whirl of G. H. S., has, however, been a boost to the sports. As soon as golfing weather comes 'round, the links claim his attention. May his shots always be a "hole in one"!

DORIS EILEEN BUTLER
"Dodo"

Gregg Theory Certificate.

"Dodo" has not been very active in school affairs—was it because the rear corridors seem to fascinate her? Incidentally, rumors are in the air that she will make a very efficient secretary. May her fondest dreams be realized!

SHIRLEY RAE CAMERON
"Rae"

Year Book Staff 4; Commercial Club 4; Guidance Council 4.
"Rae," one of our blonde maidens, has not only been active in commercial work, but also socially inclined. We extend our sincerest wishes that she may always be able to enjoy life as she has while in G. H. S.

ORRIN THEODORE CARROLL
"Ted"

Franklin Printers' Guild 2, 3 (Secretary 3).
"Ted", one of the hard-working boys of our class, has not mingled with his classmates to any extent. It is rumored that he has the makings of a minister. However, next year will find him hard at work in Boston where he's bound to make good.

RICHARD WILLIAM BRIGGS
"Dick"

Track Team 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Dick" is the drummer man in the band. He also beats out the tempo on the cinder path as his muscles, functioning like a well-lubricated, powerful engine, strives to bring him victory. We will always associate "Dick" with Jean Krupa.

DOUGLAS FREDERICK BRUCE
"Doug"

Hi-Y 2, 3, 4 (President 4); Band 2, 3.

"Doug", as the guiding hand of the Hi-Y, has shown us how a not too active boy in other fields can demonstrate his ability and leadership. Anyone at all well acquainted with him has heard samples of his rare humor and laughed with him many a time. More power to you, "Doug", as you go through life using your optimistic viewpoint to the best vantage.

DONALD HENRY BURKILL
"Gig"

Manager Football Team 4; Intramural Basketball 2, 3; Journalism 3; Archery Club 2, 3, 4 (Treasurer 4).

Perhaps the football season of '37 owes its success to "Gig's" efficient management. No doubt his bashfulness accounts for his refusal to be intimate with the fairer sex. However, we are sure that we will find him heading the ranks wherever he may be.

EDWARD HARMON BURNS
"Eddie"

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 4.

Temple College is rewarding "Eddie" for his years as a triumphant athlete by offering him its all for the next four years. We know that Temple will be as justly proud of him in the future as G. H. S. has been. "Eddie" is aboard the boat bound for "Success" and we sincerely say, "Bon Voyage."

GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

MARION EVELYN CLARK
"Clarkie"

Who is that quiet girl who is seen flitting in and out of Room 14? Why, it's Marion, of course. Although we don't hear very much about her, she helps the school along in her own way. She is uncertain as to plans about her future.

ALEX PETER COCCO
"Alex"

"Cocco", that quiet person from the Vocational Department, tries to keep his private life to himself but—. Although he isn't interested in the school activities or clubs he has made a number of friends. We don't know Alex's plans for the future, but we do know that he'll make good.

ELEANORE STOUGHTON CONANT
"Cony"

Intramural Basketball 4; Year Book Staff 4; Class Vice President 2, 3; Dance Committee 4; "Sunset by Slantsky" 2; Alpha Beta Pi 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 3, Vice President 4; Delta Sigma Rho 1, (President); Dramatic Club 2, 3; Glee Club 4; Guidance Council 2, 3, 4, (President 4); Student Council 1, 3; Pro Merito 3, 4; Silver G 3, 4.

A flash of teeth and a broad grin, that's "Cony". Her constant good nature and witty remarks have earned her many friends. She has been very active and has helped make the school what it is. We think that she has had a monopoly on class and club offices, but what can you expect from a bundle of pep, ambition and personality?

EVELYN LOUISE CRAMER
"Chevie"

Pro Merito 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Gregg Theory Certificate.

"Chevie" is that quiet girl from Room 14. She doesn't mix in with many of the school's activities, but we hear she is very busy with outside "business." "Chevie" has taken a commercial course during her four years of high school and hopes to be a secretary.

EDITH FRANCES CARVER
"Shrimp"

"Shrimp" is that tall (?) girl from the Commercial group, who always has a smile for everyone. Although she hasn't been active in the school activities, we hear that her outside "interests" are just the opposite.

RITA AMERILDA CHEVALIER
"Chevvy"

Archery Club 4.

"Chevvy", our smiling, happy go-lucky girl from Room 14, came to us from St. Ann's Academy. She has used her knowledge from Archery Club to pierce her way into the memories of her classmates. Rita's one great ambition is to be a physiotherapist and X-ray technician.

LUANA LILLIAN CHICKERING
"Chick"

Band 5, 4.

"Chick," with her pleasing personality and ready smile for everyone, is always seen with the band. This, however, doesn't take all of her time, for we often see her with that certain someone. She is undecided as to her plans for the future, but we are confident that she will make a success of any undertaking.

EVELYN MABLE CLARK
"Clarkie"

Delta Sigma Rho 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2.

"Clarkie", Kresge's special from Room 14, tries to keep her private life a secret. But that is rather hard nowadays. We feel that her future will be a great success but we wonder—will it be "Jimmy" or will it be "Dick"?

MICHAEL JAMES DiNOFRIO
"Mike"

Intramural Basketball 2.

"Mike" is one of the Senior Class's dashing red heads. He has, of late, been working in Mr. Smith's office and is apt to pop up anywhere in the school, during the fifth period of the day. Friends, you know!

WILLIAM JOSEPH DEVINO
"Bill"

Intramural Basketball 2.

Whenever you see a large group of girls laughing and shouting, you may bet your cap and gown "Bill" is in the center, looking nonchalant and calm. They say he's an awful pest, but confidentially, we think he's cute, don't you?

RITA EVELYN DION
"Lucky"

Gregg Shorthand Certificate; "Trial by Jury" 1; Glee Club 1; Graduation Chorus 2.

"Lucky" is one of the Orange "fans". There is hardly a Friday night that she can't be seen tripping the light fantastic with her Romeo of the hour. She used to be seen quite a lot with one of the Severance twins, but of late her interests lie outside of the G. H. S.

VIRGINIA RUTH DOLE
"Ginny"

Year Book Staff 1; Class Vice President 1; Guidance Council 1; Dance Committee 1; Delta Sigma Rho 1, 2, 3; (President 3); Alpha Beta Pi 1; Art Club 3, 4; Student Council 2, 3; Silver G. 1.

"Ginny" has rightfully claimed the crown for the sweetest girl in the Senior Class. She has a smile for everybody and is renowned for her willingness to help each and everyone she can. Always smartly dressed and in good humor, as well as being an all round good sport, she is very much in demand.

ANNAMAE CROPPER
"Mitay"

Intramural Basketball 1; Commercial Club 3, 4; Gregg Theory Certificate. Annamae is that clever Commercial student who hails from "The French King" way. She has not taken a prominent part in any of the school's activities, but has built up a reputation for her winning smile.

MALCOLM PETER DANFORTH
"Pete"

"Pete" is the small boy with the big shoulders that you see haunting the Greenfield dance halls every time there is a "shin dig". His closely cropped mane is the brunt of many witty sayings around the school; nevertheless, "Pete" manages to always have a smile as well as his "pineapple".

ELLEN JANE DAVIS
"Janey"

Gregg Theory Certificate; Intramural Basketball 1, 2; Varsity 3, 4; (Assistant Manager 3, Manager 4); Dance Committee 4; Delta Sigma Rho 1, 2, 3; Alpha Beta Pi 4; Guidance Council 3; Cheer Leader 4.

Active in sports and social events, "Janey" is known to all. Her ready wit and laughter have echoed through the halls of G. H. S. many times, and she has often times been seen in the company of "Al". The gang wouldn't be complete without Ellen.

MERRILL RICHARD DAVIS
"Merrill"

"Sunset by Slantsky" 2; Dramatic Club 3; Guidance Council 1.

Merrill is that good looking boy who can always be seen working down at Farr & Bartlett's. He doesn't care for girls nor is he interested in any of the school's activities, still he has many friends here in school. His most accomplished feat is his rosy blush.

GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

JAMES JOSEPH DUBINO

"Smoky"

"Smoky" is a hard-working boy of the Vocational course. Although he gives a rough and ready appearance, his friends all find him a fine pal. He has been working in the Greenfield Tap and Die Corporation and doing school work on the side. Surely anyone that can do that deserves credit and happiness.

JOHN JOSEPH FRANK DUDA

"Johnny"

Who doesn't know "Johnny," the class "shrimp", who is often seen in the upper corridors. "Johnny" is to be congratulated on his excellent work in the woodshop and on the fact that, although he comes from Riverside, he has never been absent or tardy. Surely this boy is bound to go far.

DOROTHY MARY DUFFY

"Dot"

"Dot" is the little dark-eyed girl who came to G. H. S. in her Senior year. Although she has had little chance to be in school activities and is usually quiet, we know she can be entertaining company outside of school. Dorothy plans to be a nurse and we know she will make a fine one.

HELEN MARY DUNN

"Helen"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Exponent 5, 4; Year Book Staff 4; Dramatic Club 4.

When you see a girl with dark wavy hair and pretty clothes, you are looking at Helen. Her pleasant smile and manner makes her popular at the many school and club activities which she attends. G. H. S. will lose a pleasant fun-loving girl when they lose Helen.

LOUISE ELLIS

"Pup"

Intramural Basketball 1; Delta Sigma Rho 1, 2, 3, 4. (Secretary 5, Vice President 4); Science Club 4; Guidance Council 1.

"Pup" is that sweet, light-haired girl from Room 15, who is often seen driving a maroon colored Packard. Her friendly and good-natured manner makes her one of the most popular members of Delta Sigma Rho in which she is very active. Her love for a good time and winning personality is sure to lead "Pup" to happiness in whatever she undertakes.

DOROTHY MARIE ELMORE

"Dotty"

Intramurals 1.

"Dotty" seems to be one of those people who haven't taken much part in school activities, but nevertheless she is well known and liked by everyone. She has been an active member of the Vocational Department.

ROLLIN WILFRED JOHN ETHER

"Honey"

PAUL EDWARD LAFLEUR

"Flea"

Gregg Theory Certificate; Commercial Club 3, 4, (Secretary 5).

Who is that curly-haired lad in Room 16? Why, "Flea", of course, the boy who has proved himself so valuable as Miss Crozier's secretary. He is also the boy whom "Gertie" Bostley pesters continually in one class or another. He doesn't seem to mind, however, but perhaps that's because he's used to it. Anyhow, one thing is certain; he will make someone a good secretary when he gets out into the business world.

As Mr. Jeff's right hand man "Joe" has proved his worth as an efficient typist. He has also been seen pounding the big bass drum at football games and at the fair. We will remember him as a willing worker, a fine student, and a good friend.

MARY VERONICA MACHALEK
"Nanis"

Pro Merito 5, 4; Intramural Basketball 2.

By working diligently in her spare time Mary is proving her earnest desire to become a first-class hairdresser. As is only natural, she likes her good times, and from all reports is not backward in making the most of her opportunities.

ELIZABETH LOUISE MALEY
"Betty"

Alpha Beta Pi 5, 4, (Treasurer 4); Archery Club 1, 2.

Betty, fond of gum and laughter, can usually be sighted pounding the corridor or speeding up Federal Street in search of conspirators. Her good nature has often been tried and imposed upon by less-ambitious committee workers. Here's to when, "Bett"!

VIOLET ALICE MERRIOTT
"Dutchie"

Intramural Basketball 1.

Violet is the blonde from Millers Falls who takes her education so seriously that she hasn't had time for anything else since her Freshman year. Although she appears to be quiet, we hear that she doesn't use her spare time knitting.

JOHN HARDING MERZ
"John"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Hi-Y 1; Science Club 5.

John is one of those strong, silent men around school, but he is usually around when any mischief is being planned. He has been quite active in school affairs, but no one knows about his private life.

MENTOR LOUIS METAXAS
"Mint"

Pro Merito 5, 4.

Wherever there is an argument going on, you can be sure to find Mentor, for he dearly loves an argument. Public Speaking is Mentor's favorite subject for there he can really let himself go. At the Pro Merito Convention in the autumn he decided that Northampton was the town for him if all the girls were like "her."

FRANK JOHN NIELESKI
"Spike"

Pro Merito 4; Gregg Theory Award; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Football 5, 4; Golf 3, 4.

"Spike" has been a very busy young man on the athletic field during his four years in G. H. S. He gets a great deal of exercise eluding the girls who think that he "tops" the rest of the boys in school.

ELIZABETH MABEL MARTIN
"Tootsie"

Pro Merito 4; Gregg Theory Certificate; Intramural Basketball 1; Art Club 5, 4; Commercial Club 5, 4. (Vice President); Student Council 4.

Although the school room has a subduing effect upon "Liz", she is blessed with a sharp sense of humor which she exercises liberally at the discomfort of her host of friends. She has high hopes of becoming a private secretary.

LEONARD WILLIAM MARTIN
"Cowboy"

Intramural Basketball 5; Art Club 4.

"Cowboy" is that "social lion" in Room 17 who suddenly blossomed from a shy boy into a "man-of-affairs" at one of the club dances. It seems that there hasn't been a party for quite some time that hasn't seen "Cowboy's" trick parlor rugby plays in action. Maybe he'll take up coaching.

DONALD ALBERT MAYBERRY
"Don"

We can't quite decide whether "Don's" complete indifference to the social and athletic life of G. H. S. is due to living in the Meadows or to some "outside interest." Personally we think that the "outside interest" accounts for it.

ROBERT LOUIS McINTOSH
"Tosh"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Baseball 1; Varsity Soccer 2, 3; Hockey 3; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4.

"Bob" has found time for extra-curricular activities including athletics and clubs. With Prusick and Co. he has spent many a happy hour in Room 23. Lately he has been so good that we think "Ros" is having a quieting effect upon him.

GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

"Louie Mish"

Football 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Track 4; Year Book Staff 4; Hi-Y Club 4; Guidance Council 2, 4.

"Louie Mish" is our big hero of the gridiron and diamond. He has as much success with the girls as he does in athletics, although he vows he is very bashful. His favorite indoor sport is teasing the girls in Room 17.

JOHN LOUIS MOQUIN

"John"

Wherever John is, there is sure to be a trail of pink slips. All of his spare time is taken up with ushering at the Garden and serving time in Room 25. He and his pal "Spike" usually seem to be having a good time no matter where they go.

NORMAN EUGENE MOREY

"Norman"

Norman is our blond young man who is always being told by Mr. Sander to keep his mind on his work and off the girls. He hasn't been around lately because he has a full time job that takes up most of his time.

EDITH LORRAINE MORIN

"Edie"

Glee Club 1, 2, 3.

"Edie" is one Senior who seems to have more than her share of troubles. She has been so wrapped up in her home economics course that her extra-curricular activities have been very limited.

MARION JULIA MOSHER

"Marion"

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Intramural Hockey 1; Gregg Shorthand Theory Award 4; Exponent 4; Year Book Staff 4; "Trial By Jury" 1; Silver G 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Student Council 3.

Marion is one of those smart girls who usually manage to get all A's and still act as though it were all in the day's work. Her brains and nonchalant manner are the envy of all who know her.

DORIS IRENE MOWRY

"Mowry"

Varsity Basketball 4; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2.

Doris is a quiet, good natured girl. She didn't blossom forth in many extra-curricular activities, but she did do all right in helping the basketball team.

MITCHELL CHESTER MROZ

"Mitch"

Basketball 1, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

"Mitch" is a nice bashful boy, especially where girls are concerned, much to the sorrow of many of them. The basketball team was strengthened considerably and many a victory won by his excellent playing.

MARGARET VERA MUIR

"Vie"

Gregg Shorthand Theory Award 4; Exponent 3, 4; Year Book Staff 4; "Skidding" 4; Commercial Club 4; Dramatic Club 4.

During her career in high school "Vie" had quite a list of conquests, both in school and out. Turners was on top of the list for quite a time but Brattleboro, Springfield College, Greenfield and all points leading to North Leverett seem to have taken its place. We wonder where next?

CATHERINE FRANCES MURPHY

"Murph"

Field Hockey 1; Year Book Staff 4; Alpha Beta Pt. 4; Pro Merito 4; (Vice President 4); Guidance Council 4.

"Murph" is everybody's friend and everybody is "Murph's" friend, but Mt. Hermon seems to be the place where someone was wanted for more than a friend. Catherine is another of our very bright girls.

NICHOLAS MUSHOVIC

"Nick"

Football 5, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 5, 4; Track 4; Hi-Y 5, 4; Science Club 4; Silver G 4.

"Nick" is very well liked by everyone, and is one of our star athletes. Much of the success of our basketball and football teams is due to his brilliant playing. It's not positively known whether "Nick" is a genuine "woman-hater" or just bashful. It is generally conceded that the last point is correct.

ELEANOR RUTH NEWCOMB

"Newcy"

Pro Merito 4; Gregg Theory Certificate 4; Intramural Basketball 1; Commercial Club 4.

"Newcy" is absolutely the life of the party, or should we say life of the "type" class, especially when John Varily happens to be in the class. Her humor has caused many a dry incident to turn hilarious.

BARBARA ANNE NICHOLS

"Nickie"

Intramural Basketball 2, 3, 4; Intramural Soccer 5; Dramatic Club 4; Art Club 4; Science Club 4.

"Nickie", although quite active in extra-curricular affairs, didn't have her heart in her work. Lucien seemed to take all her spare time. She can be seen at almost any time, fooling in the gym.

ANN ELIZABETH NORWOOD

"Snookums"

Delta Sigma Rho 1, 2, 3, 4; Guidance Council 5.

"Snookums'" main interest during her high school career was in Room 6, and the interest was not entirely in the subject taught in that room! Though a very quiet girl, "Snookums" is known throughout the high school as an all round good sport.

BARBARA JEAN NOYES

"Bobby"

Gregg Certificate Award; Pro Merito 3, 4; Exponent 4; Year Book Staff 1; Silver G 4; Commercial Club 5, 4; Student Council 4; Guidance Council 4.

"Bobby", our nonchalant writer on the Exponent staff, is always ready with a smile or a good word of cheer for everyone. She has kept her group well amused and deserves the name of "Cookie" from all standpoints, especially in "math" class. She is undecided as to the future, but we're sure we'll see a lot of "Bobby".

KENNETH HENRY OATES

"Chief"

Football 5, 4 (Captain 2nd team 4); Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1; Year Book Staff 4; Hi-Y 5, 4; Science Club 5; Archery 1; Guidance Council 4; Student Council 4; Silver G 4.

"Chief" and his pals of the Haywood A. C. are known to everyone. His singing in assembly was the envy of all. He has been an active member of athletics and clubs. He's the sort of person we like to have around, always grinning, never serious. Good luck, "Chief", in whatever you do.

JOHN STANLEY OSTROSKI

"John"

John has not been a very active member in extra-curricular activities. He spends much of his time in the automobile repairing shop. You can always find him with his pals, "Ray" Stewart, "Butch" Phillips, and "Stan" Pulaski.

GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

URSON WILBUR OTTO

"Otto"

Second Team Football 5; "Trial by Jury" 2; Hi-Y 5, 4; Science Club 5; Archery Club 2.

Driving a milk truck keeps "Otto" busy, but his witty personality is enjoyed by all. Although doing his homework is not one of his chief accomplishments, dancing is. "Rita's" holds much interest for him.

THEODORE FRANK OZDARSKI

"Ted"

Think of a quiet, shy lad and "Ted" comes to mind. School activities haven't interested him very much, but he has used his time to advantage, probably enjoying himself with his pals, "Fifi" Breen, "Dick" Barber, and "Joe" Dubino.

VIRGINIA PARKER

"Ginny"

Intramural Basketball 1; Archery Club 1, 2; Delta Sigma Rho 1, 2; Alpha Beta Pi 5, 4; Science Club 4; Guidance Council 5.

Remember the girl with the pretty hair and the smart ways? That's "Ginny". She is one of the best dressed girls in the Class of '37; always calm and cool, never flustered. After school you could almost always find her in Mr. Watt's laboratory.

ANNA PARLEY

KENNETH ARNOLD PATENAUME

"Pat"

Although "Pat" has not taken an active part in school affairs, he is well known outside for his "hill billy" music. He has taken part in many amateur shows and has played over the radio. "Pat" doesn't have much to say, but he has made many friends at G. H. S.

"Pecky" is the little girl with the curls who is always to be seen with either Verga or Muriel. She has many outside interests as well as the extra curricular activities in which she has participated. "Pecky" is everybody's friend.

HILDA MAY PERRAULT

"Dede"

Hilda, to the casual eye, appears to be very noisy, but deep down underneath, she is really just bashful. She hasn't been very active in the extra-curricular activities at G. H. S., but she has made many fast friends. "Dede" doesn't have any definite plans for her future, but here's to it!

GERTRUDE ADA PIERCE

"Gert"

Intramural Basketball 1; Chorus 1.

BRUCE WALTER RICHASON
"Richie"

"Trial By Jury" 1.

Wherever we see Sanders and Poulos there also do we find "Richie". Much of his time is claimed by his work at the T. FRANCES SCHULTZ "Frannie"

Frances, that cheerful little Senior, may often be seen with a great pile of books on her arm, but anyone can see that Delta Sigma Rho has consumed much of her time. She has other outside activities also, no doubt, but her closest friends are much better informed about them than the rest of us. All joking aside, "Franny" is one little girl we'll not be sorry we've known.

CATHERINE EVA SEARS
"Cappy"

"Cappy" has succeeded in staying out of the limelight while in school, but outside she seems to be a different person. She and her pal "Lib", have gone through a great deal together, and have had some "swell" times. Best of luck, "Cappy", in the future.

WALDO DOUGLAS SEVERANCE
"Red"

"Red" is that cheerful fellow who comes from Leyden every day. He and brother Willard are two jolly members of our class, and we should be lost without them. "Red's" constant good nature has reaped him many friends including Doris. Here's luck, Waldo!

WILLARD RICHARD SEVERANCE

"Rusty"

Of course, every one knows "Rusty". He is one of the famous "red-heads" from Leyden. Who hasn't seen the twins, together, walking up and down Federal Street, or waiting for the bus? Although he hasn't been active in school activities, we will all miss "Rusty" and his cheerful grin.

WILLIAM DOUGLAS SHORT

"Bill"

Who hasn't seen our blond six-footer driving the florist's car around. Although "Bill" has thus been occupied most of the time for the last year, he still saves a moment or two for the girls, with whom he is a well-known favorite. Among boys or girls, "Bill's" good nature and congeniality are sure to make him a hit.

WALTER WILLIAM SPAT, JR.

"Pete"

Soccer 1, 2, 5.

ESTHER MAY SPROWL

"Sprouts"

Gregg Theory Certificate; Intramural Basketball 1; Exponent 5, 4; Year Book Staff 4; Dramatic Club 2, 5; Class Prophet 4.

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 5, 4; Cheer Leader 4; Chorus 1, 2.

President's Address

FACULTY, PARENTS, VISITORS:—

On behalf of the Class of 1857 I have the honor of welcoming you to this occasion. For your entertainment this evening we shall present a pageant depicting the life of the great American educator, Horace Mann. As members of the Senior class have worked hard preparing it, we hope you will enjoy it.

TO MY CLASSMATES:—

As this is one of the last times we shall all be together, I wish to express my thanks to you for having elected me to represent you so many times in the past four years. I have had great pleasure in working for you and with you. Also at this time I want to wish each and every one of you success in any field you have chosen to enter.

HORACE MANN

Before we present the pageant, I am going to give you a brief resume of the life of Horace Mann. The son of a poor family, he was born in Franklin, Mass., May 4, 1796. Much is not told of his early life except that he was an apt student and an extensive reader.

After completing his elementary training he proceeded to Brown University from where he graduated with highest honors. Following graduation from college he studied law and was admitted to the bar in Norfolk. After a few years he was elected to the Massachusetts House of Representatives, from which he proceeded to the State Senate as president. He soon resigned this position, however, to become Secretary of the newly organized Massachusetts Board of Education. This is the work for which he is most widely known.

As Secretary of the Board, Mann introduced the public school system into the United States. This is considered his greatest single deed in the field of education. He also established at Lexington, the first Normal School in the nation because he considered many teachers of his day incapable for their positions. He travelled to many parts of the state to personally see and remedy the conditions existing in certain schools.

After twelve years of superb service to the board he resigned to represent Massachusetts in the Congress of the United States. There he fought for the abolition of slavery and other humanitarian causes. On leaving Congress he became President of the newly founded Antioch College in Ohio. It is from there that the last thought which I shall leave with you came. The final words of his from his last address to the graduating class of 1859 are these:—

"I beseech you to treasure up in your hearts these, my parting words: Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity."

THE PROLOG

(After the bugle calls in back stage the Herald appears and announces the coming of the Spirit of Education and the Spirit of Democracy with their attending courts.)

THE HERALD: Behold the Spirit of Education!
Behold the Spirit of Democracy!

These have been the two great vehicles of freedom and liberty as expressed in American popular government. Hear them as they pay tribute to that great social reformer, the "Father of Free Schools in America," Horace Mann.

(Spirit of Democracy and the Spirit of Education enter and take their places, one at each end of the stage-front.)

DEMOCRACY: Since earliest times all men have hoped for a better kind of life. They have had visions of a new kind of justice. They have dreamed of a country where each had the right to be free. Down thru the ages the dream has grown greater and mankind has continued to endure hardships and to struggle on to make that dream come true.

Spirit of Education, in what esteem has education heretofore been held in the regards of men?

EDUCATION: Among several of the most powerful nations of antiquity there were no public schools. The part of education most attended to by all ancient nations was that which tended to strengthen and harden the body. Only a very limited number enjoyed the advantages of an education.

Shortly after the commencement of the Christian era, all idea of general popular education died out of the minds of men. A gloomy and terrible period succeeded, which lasted a thousand years. Oppression usurped the civil throne. Persecution seized upon the holy altar. Rulers demanded unconditional submission of body and soul and sent forth ministers of fire and sword to destroy what they could not enslave. All that power, wealth, arts, and civilization had conferred upon the Old World, even new-born divine Christianity itself, were converted into instruments of physical bondage and spiritual degradation. These centuries were called the Dark Ages.

DEMOCRACY: What could education do in such an age?

EDUCATION: Nothing! Nothing! Its voice was hushed; its animation was suspended.

On down thru the Augustan Age of English literature almost nothing is said on the subject of education. It was left for the Fathers of New England, soon after the settlement of the colony by the Pilgrim Fathers, to establish common schools, for which let their names be honored above the names of all other men while the world stands.

TABLEAU—PILGRIMS GOING TO CHURCH

(A suitable number of boys and girls, depending upon the size of the stage, are here posed in Pilgrim dress, boys with guns on shoulders; while the chorus, accompanied by the orchestra, sings the Winchester Tune by Ravenscroft, year, 1621, in four parts, key of G.)

DEMOCRACY: The early settlers of New England established public schools. They had a very deep respect for written law and were very insistent on what they considered their rights under the charters and other contacts. Above all they believed in the possibility of improving themselves by constant, earnest effort, by education, and by self-restraint. Also, they believed in the possibility of improving mankind in the same way. They founded not only, common and Latin or grammar schools, but also Harvard and Yale Colleges.

EDUCATION: A college was endowed to give a full and elaborate education to the few who were designated and set apart, even in youth, to fill the offices of such and state in subsequent life. Outside of New England and New Amsterdam, children were either educated privately if they belonged to prosperous fam-lies, or if they were poor, they went to the so-called "pauper schools."

The people in the South lived miles apart upon great plantations. The Southerners valued other qualities as much as they valued learning. A boy who could ride, shoot, and speak the truth was thought by many to have the foundations of an education. Music, sewing, painting, French, and dancing were considered proper subjects for girls, but above all good manners were to be taught.

*DANCE—"The Minuet" (School Songs, page 52)
Rendered to music by Chorus and Orchestra.*

POETRY CHOIR—"The Nation's Builders"

(The Prolog ends with the recital by the Poetry Choir of Emerson's "The Nation's Builders." The Poetry Choir may be large or small as conditions will permit.)

"THE NATION'S BUILDERS"

Not gold, but only men can make
A people great and strong—
Men who for truth and honor's sake,
Stand fast and suffer long.
Brave men, who work while others sleep
Who dare while others fly—
They build a nation's pillars deep
And lift them to the sky.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

EPISODE I

Introductory

(The early life of Horace Mann is depicted in three incidents. The first shows something of the hardships he had to endure in helping to support the family; the second, his struggle to get an education; and the third, his viewpoint on what constitutes, and his ambition to contribute to, a realization of the permanent values of life.)

DEMOCRACY: With the American Revolution the current of human events was turned quite around, and set upon a new course. Instead of the ruler being the lord, the rulers became the servants and the will of the people became the law.

EDUCATION: Americans had always been interested in education but they had been too busy to accomplish much. Only in New England and in New York were parents compelled to have their children educated. In most states parents had to pay tuition even in the common schools. There were some good colleges, but except the University of Virginia, which Thomas Jefferson had founded, they were private institutions and poor boys found it difficult to attend them.

DEMOCRACY: About 1825 many more people became interested in the affairs of government. Citizens who were not well educated and who had not used their right to vote began to take part in elections. The wiser people in the country realized that there must be schools to educate the children of these people so that they could vote intelligently. Unless such schools were provided the success of the government might be in danger.

The growing class of day laborers demanded that schools be made free. People came to realize that there could be no wise government by ignorant citizens and that it was just as important to give the children of the poor a good education as the children of the rich. In 1834 the first campaign for the support of schools by taxation was won.

EDUCATION: In 1785, Benjamin Franklin, philosopher, statesman, and philanthropist, received the information that the people of a community in his native state of Massachusetts had incorporated a town, not far from Boston, and had given to it, in his honor, the name of Franklin. "I will give your town a gift of books," said the godfather, and so to their town came a little library to the value of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, of books "most proper to inculcate the principles of sound religion and good government." To this little library of stilted old histories and musty theologies came, in 1806, a poor farmer's boy. His name was Horace Mann.

Life was hard for small boys in those days. Parents were stern and unsympathetic and this small boy's home was one of poverty and privation. If he wished a play hour, he must work for it; if he wished for a book even a school book—he must work for it. With a natural love for the refined and the beautiful, he was surrounded by influences which tended to make life hard, repressed, narrow, and lonely.

DEMOCRACY: It is indeed, "repression and deprivation, which in characters naturally strong, sometimes bring out both purpose and performance."

Horace Mann was frail in body but strong in heart. When bright things were denied him, he dreamed bright things. He had no desire to be rich or famous or powerful, but he did wish to do something helpful and noble, and his air castles, such as all thoughtful or ambitious boys love to build, were not material, but intellectual structures; that is, he did not dream of doing something great for himself, but rather something that should be of benefit to mankind.

FIRST INCIDENT—BOYHOOD STRUGGLES

(The First Incident is a scene in a country store, and is self-explanatory. The setup here may be varied to suit stages, conditions, and properties. The store counter may be made so as to be used for the teacher's desk in the Second Incident and the Judge's rostrum in the Third Incident. Appropriate music by the chorus or one of the glee clubs and orchestra closes this Incident.)

CHARACTERS: Horace Mann, Storekeeper, Four Boys, Four Men.

TIME: When Horace Mann was about twelve years of age.

PLACE: Franklin, Massachusetts. In the country store. (Boys' voices).

1ST BOY: There goes Horace. Let's have some fun with him. (Horace Mann walks into store, boys follow him to door.)

2ND BOY: Hello, Girlie. Have you washed the breakfast dishes yet?

3RD BOY: How much straw can you plait in a day Horry?

4TH BOY: He helps the women in the kitchen.

ALL TOGETHER: Girl-boy, girl-boy, girl-boy.

STOREKEEPER: Run away you rascals. Some more straw braid today, Horace?

HORACE: Yes, Sir. There's not so much as I hoped to bring, but I'll do better next week.

STOREKEEPER (weighs it): It amounts to one shilling and six pence. And what will you buy today?

HORACE: Half of it is Mother's and half of it is mine. Mother will come in tomorrow and get what she needs. For my part, I want the arithmetic book that I was looking at last week.

STOREKEEPER: The price of this book is one shilling.

HORACE: I know, but I lack three pence of having so much. I only want to ask if you will not lay the book aside for me, until next week when I shall have more than enough to pay for it.

STOREKEEPER: You may take the book now, and I will trust you for the balance till you have some more braid ready.

HORACE: Oh thank you, Sir! Good-day, Sir. (goes out).

(Boys' Voices)

1ST BOY: That's right, girlie! Run home now and wash the breakfast dishes. Run home and plait some more straw.

3RD BOY: Don't lose your way, Horry.

STOREKEEPER: That lad will make his mark in the world. The boys make fun of him because he makes straw braids and helps his mother with the housework.

1ST MAN: He has no father?

STOREKEEPER: His father died two years ago, and the boy has been the mainstay of the family ever since. And work—why, he's never known anything but work! That boy never played a day in his life. He's at work on the farm whenever the weather will let him. And then evenings and on rainy days he's always plaiting straw. Why, he plaites more straw than any woman or girl in Franklin. The hat makers say that his braids are the best of any that I send them.

2ND MAN: Does he go to school?

STOREKEEPER: No, he never has time to go to school much. I guess he goes seven or eight weeks in mid-winter, when he can't do anything on the farm. But they say as young as he is, he knows more than the teacher.

3RD MAN: Does he read many books?

STOREKEEPER: Well, I should reckon, he's read everything in the Franklin library, and he has a few books of his own. They say that he sits up and reads when everybody else is in bed. Sometimes he sits up till long after midnight and they are so poor up at his house that I guess they can't afford to buy many candles either. The boys laugh at him now, but they'll be glad enough to do him honor bye and bye.

(This Incident is closed with music.)

SECOND INCIDENT—MR. BARRETT'S INFLUENCE

(The Second Incident depicts the village school of Franklin, Massachusetts, taught by Schoolmaster Barrett. Horace Mann, now about seventeen or eighteen years old, was a student in this school. Music at the close of this Incident between curtains.)

CHARACTERS: Horace Mann, Mr. Bartlett, Children.

TIME: About 1818.

PLACE: Schoolroom in the afternoon.

MR. BARRETT: The high fives up for spelling. (Three children of odd sizes come forward and form a line in front of the teacher.) Mercia, spell "Aaron" which is the name of the elder brother of Moses.

MERCIA (stepping forward from line): Great A, little a, there are your two a's; r - o - n, ron. That spells "Aaron," the name of Moses' elder brother. (stepping back into line.)

MR. BARRETT: George, spell "abomination."

GEORGE (stepping forward): A, there's your a; b - o - m, bom, there's your abom; i - n, there's your abomin; a, there's your a, there's your abomina; t - i - o - n, tion; there's your bomination, there's your "abomination." (stepping back into line.)

MR. BARTLETT: John, spell "deliberative."

JOHN (stepping forward): "Deliberative," d - e, there's your de; l - i - b, there's your lib; there's your delib; e - r, there's your er, there's your liber; there's your deliber; a - t - i - v - e, ative, there's your ative; there's your deliberative. (stepping back into line.)

MR. BARTLETT: Return to your benches. Your spelling is good today. Lief, can you give the rule for finding the Gregorian Epact?

LIEF: Yes, Sir. First subtract from the Julian Epact. If the subtraction cannot be made, add 50 to the Julian Epact; then subtract and the remainder will be the Gregorian Epact; if nothing remains, the Epact is 20.

MR. BARRETT: That rule would have been easier for you Lief, if you would remember idleness and ignorance are twin brothers. Hand me your slate. We will see how well you can divide. Mind now, 846 trillion, 795 billion, 506 million, 297 thousand, 552 (looking at slate). Yes, divide that sum by 5 billion, 697 million, 505 thousand, 260. Take care of your borrowing in your subtracting.

LIEF: Yes, Sir.

MR. BARRETT: Horace, you may recite your geography now.

HORACE: Yes, Sir.

MR. BARRETT: What is a mountain?

HORACE: It is a vast protuberance of the earth.

MR. BARRETT: What are our highest mountains?

HORACE: The highest mountains are the White Mountains in New Hampshire.

MR. BARRETT: What do you know of Switzerland?

HORACE: Switzerland is a small romantic country, lying upon the Alps.

MR. BARRETT: What is the largest known river?

HORACE: The Mississippi. Navigation on the river is attended with many difficulties and dangers, from the sudden crooks and bends in the river, the falling in of its banks, and more especially from the "sawyers" so called, which are trees whose roots have by some means become fastened to the bottom of the river in such a manner that from the continual pressure of the current they receive a regular vibratory motion from the resemblance of which to a saw-mill, they have derived their name. Their motion is sometimes very quick, and if they strike a boat, it is immediately upset or dashed to pieces. Vessels are from five to thirty days on their passage up to New Orleans, 87 miles, although with a favorable wind, they will sometimes descend in 13 hours.

MR. BARRETT: Horace, remain where you are. (rings bell.) School is dismissed. (Children file out, get lunch pails, a drink, etc.) (Turning to Horace) I have been thinking a great deal about you lately. You have very few days left in my school.

HORACE: (bowing): Yes, I'm sorry for that, Sir.

MR. BARRETT: Horace, you must go to college.

HORACE: How can I, Sir? I do not know either Greek or Latin, nor have I the means.

MR. BARRETT: I myself will prepare you in Greek and Latin, but as for the money you will need to figure that out for yourself.

HORACE: Work is to me what water is to a duck. With your help I know I can manage to go. What was only a dream this morning seems real this afternoon. How can I thank you enough, Mr. Barrett?

(This Incident is closed with music.)

THIRD INCIDENT—A YOUNG LAWYER'S VISION

(The law court, portrayed in the Third Incident, shows Horace Mann, the lawyer, receiving the congratulations of the Judge upon his election to the state legislature.)

CHARACTER: Horace Mann, another Lawyer, the Judge
TIME: About 1850.

PLACE: Law court in Boston, Massachusetts.

THE JUDGE: The case is dismissed.

THE OTHER LAWYER: What is to become of my practice if I have to combat your eloquence many more times? I'll be glad when you have embarked on your career as a statesman.

THE JUDGE: Mr. Mann, I want to congratulate you upon your election to the state legislature. Such a promising young lawyer as you are proving, should be able to secure many wealthy clients thru your connections there.

HORACE MANN: Do these possessors of wealth, leisure, and learning you mention interest themselves in the education of the masses?

THE JUDGE: I daresay most of them don't. However, they should realize that if the people's minds are not enlightened by knowledge, our fine government has as much of a defense as a spider's web.

HORACE MANN: In my new capacity "I shall be more interested in filling the schools than the jails. Where you have so many more of the former, you need fewer of the latter."

THE JUDGE: I can see that you believe that the greatest good that we can do is to do good for others. The unfortunate have long needed such a champion, for so many of our statesmen have lacked the proper vision.

HORACE MANN: In our country during these times no man is worthy the honored name of statesman who does not include the highest practicable education of the people in all his plans. He must speak, plan, and labor at all times and in all places for the culture and edification of the whole people. Unless he does, he is not, and cannot be, an American statesman.

THE OTHER LAWYER: If you live up to the standards set by yourself, you will never need to overcome your distaste at handling cases in which the client is guilty, for your whole time will be taken up with these unpopular issues.

HORACE MANN: In this land of liberty where there are few external restraints which can be brought to bear upon the appetites and passions of men, there must be internal restraints and for this purpose we must perfect our system of education.

(In the closing scene the Poetry Choir recites "O Ship of State" by Longfellow. The chorus sings the chorus of this poem set to music by Beethoven, "Junior Music," p. 162.)

EPISODE II

The Statesman—Struggle for Reforms

(Horace Mann, the educational statesman and congressman, reaches a dramatic climax in the furtherance of his program for educational, political, and social reforms.)

Horace Mann sits dreaming. The Poetry Choir recites "Dream the Great Dreams" by Coates. Democracy and Education enter the scene in their respective places. Horace Mann then sees schools established for the blind, who appear upon the stage and pose in pantomime. Any number of children in costume may play this part. The Poetry Choir then recites "Blind Folk" by Baudelaire. He sees the slaves freed. Colored slaves appear on the stage and pose while the girls' glee club sings "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

The Chorus sings "Send Out Thy Light" by Gounod, and during the singing, Horace Mann stands, stretches both arms outward and upward, and the blind stand in enlightenment, the slaves throw off their shackles, the children that were struck down with disease stand, and all together illustrate their freedom in a wonderfully colorful pantomime scene.)

CHARACTERS: Horace Mann, the Blind, the Slaves, Children at play.

"DREAM THE GREAT DREAM"

By the Poetry Choir

Dream the Great Dream, though you should dream—you only
And friendless follow in the lofty quest
Though the dream lead you to a desert lonely
And drive you like the tempest, without rest,
Yet, toiling upward to the highest altar
There lay before the gods your gift supreme—
A human heart whose courage did not falter
Though distant as Arcturus shone the Gleam.

The Gleam? Ah, question not if others see it,
Who nor the yearning nor the passion share;
Grieve not if children of the earth decree it—
The earth itself—their goddess, only fair!
The soul has need of prophet and redeemer;
Her outstretched wings against her prisoning bars,
She waits for truth; and truth is with the dreamer—
Persistent, as the myriad light of stars!

DEMOCRACY: Horace Mann proved so able and careful a lawyer that in 1827 he was elected to the Massachusetts legislature. There he evinced a deep interest in all public questions, particularly in educational matters. In 1837 he was appointed to the most responsible and important office of Secretary of the newly created Board of Education in Massachusetts. No one but he himself appreciated the task he had undertaken or the labor it entailed.

He entered upon his work boldly and bravely with everything against him. Indifference, apathy, ignorance of needs and methods, political influence, unskilled instructors, and old fogey ways were some of the obstacles he had to meet and conquer.

EDUCATION: During his twelve years of service as Secretary of the Board of Education, he traveled in Europe where he was received with greatest respect and given every opportunity for the investigation of schools. Upon his return to America, he included in his educational program the establishment of schools for the blind.

"BLIND FOLK"

By the Poetry Choir

See them, my soul! How dreadful they appear;
Like puppets vaguely droll; yet terror deep
Is with them, as with those who walk in sleep.
Turning their darkling orbs you know not where.

Their eyes, from which the spark divine has fled,
As though far gazing, aye! are lifted found
To heaven. You never see them to the ground
Lean dreamily their overburdened head.

Thus through the illimitable black they pass,
Twin of eternal silence whilst, alas!
O city, you around us sing, laugh and shriek.

Enthralled by pleasure to depravity
I, too, plod on more dull and sad—and cry,
"Poor old blind folk! From heaven what can they seek?"

EDUCATION: Nothing in American education is more sublime than the eagerness with which Horace Mann seized the opportunity to lead the New World in legislative action for a school for the blind, a school for the deaf, an institution for the insane, and a school for the neglected and wayward boys.

DEMOCRACY: When John Quincy Adams fell in death upon the floor of Congress, Horace Mann was elected as his successor and for seven years he served Massachusetts as her representative in Congress, waging there just such an untiring fight against slavery as he had in his own state, in behalf of education.

("Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," sung by the boys glee club.)

EDUCATION: Perhaps it was his life-long battle with ill health which inspired Horace Mann to become a leader in placing emphasis upon health education. He said, "Men will never act better than they know. The knowledge and practise of certain principles are essential to the promotion of human health and the rearing of a nobler race of men. One-fourth of the human race die before they reach the age of one year! One-half of the human race die before the age of twenty years! On the broad and firm foundation of health alone can the loftiest and most enduring structures of intellect be built. We must pay more attention to the health of our students by training them to a habitual obedience to the laws of health."

(Children are here seen at play where they are attacked by disease germs represented by other children.)

(In closing this Episode, the chorus sings "Send Out Thy Light.")

EPISODE III

The College President—Advocate of Coeducation

Horace Mann as president of Antioch College establishes practises in education which he has long advocated.

In this episode an attempt is made in Scene I to re-enact in part a typical party given in a home of that period; in Scene II to show something of the opposition that then existed to a college education for girls; and in Scene III to depict the last graduation exercises conducted by Horace Mann at Antioch College.

DEMOCRACY: While the Puritan fathers of early New England were eager for schools, they were stern in their opposition to the education of women. They believed that instead of devoting her time to reading and writing, a woman should exercise her wits usefully and honorably in the place God had set for her.

They believed a woman should attend to her household affairs and such things as belong to her and not go out of her way to meddle in such things as are proper for men whose minds they claimed are stronger.

EDUCATION: There were few girls as pupils in the early public schools. In some cases they were admitted and were then allowed to study reading and writing and to attend at hours not needed for the instruction of boys, that is from 6 to 7:30 a.m. and from 4:30 to 6 p.m. It was fashionable to ridicule feminine learning.

DEMOCRACY: Most girls did not go to grammar school or college. After they learned to read and write, they spent their time in sewing and learning to care for their homes. Girls were so taught in the homes of rich and poor alike. The home was the scene of their activity and the object of their education was to attract men, gain husbands, have homes, and manage families.

EDUCATION: Some wealthy girls did go to finishing schools which were often called Female Seminaries. They learned some of the subjects studied by the boys, but much attention was paid to French, music, dancing, and training in good manners. In 1840 there were seven of these schools for girls.

DEMOCRACY: The womanly characteristics most admired were a genteel person, a simple nature, cheerfulness, delicacy, affability, good manners, skill in fancy work, and a fund of hidden genteel learning.

SCENE I

CHARACTERS: Father, Mother, Son, Daughter, Guests

TIME: 1840

PLACES: Home of a Wealthy Planter.

The Quadrille

The staging of the quadrille is done in illustration of another of the social customs of the time of Horace Mann. The scene is the home of a young lady who has just returned from finishing school. Her father, mother, and brother receive the guests with all the formality and dignity practised in the homes of the wealthy planters of that day. The dance proceeds to orchestra music with four, eight, or twelve couples, with a "caller" in charge.

(Music between curtains)

SCENE II

Discussion of a College Education for Girls

CHARACTERS: Father, two sons (grown), daughter.

TIME: Ohio Valley, 1850.

PLACE: Living room of family home.

FIRST SON: If a girl can read and write, that's book learning enough. And as for arithmetic, all she needs is to know how many yards she'll have to spin to buy a peck of potatoes.

SECOND SON: This whole situation is most amusing. To think our own Mary has such unwomanly ideas about her place in this so-called vale of tears. Can it be, father, that your over-indulgence of her in the past is responsible for the family's present embarrassment? You have allowed her to spend every spare moment with her books.

FATHER: No criticism, sir! It would be well for you to remember that home is the place of the husband and the father. He is the monarch of that little empire, wearing the crown that is the gift of Heaven, swaying the scepter put into his hands by the Father of all, acknowledging no superiors, fearing no rivals, and dreading no usurpers.

(Mary has entered unnoticed during this tirade.)

MARY: Did you send for me, father?

FATHER: It pains me, my dear, to hear from the lips of others that you have been expressing yourself freely as desiring to attend college so as to learn Latin, Greek, and mathematics. A girl doesn't need special training outside her own home to help her to be a good wife, mother, and housekeeper.

MARY: But, father, I'm not planning on becoming any of those things—at least not for a time. I want the fun of struggling to overcome the obstacles that stand in the way of many other worthwhile things. I want to become a teacher.

FATHER: That is preposterous! Authorship is the only accredited seat for a woman's intellect, if she feels the need of an occupation for her mental energy. This she can pursue within the confines of her own home.

MARY: I have no taste for writing. Besides, it is lots more fun climbing than just going along on the level. It makes you feel alive. Teaching offers the kind of challenging difficulties I need to rise. It will furnish me many opportunities to do something real.

FIRST SON: Why, who would cook our food or mend our clothes if all females got this notion of being taught so that they could pursue an occupation outside their homes?

SECOND SON: Sis, couldn't you get the same sensation of "rising above the level" and of "overcoming obstacles" by eating too freely of cherries and cream? In that way you would assume all the discomfort. As it is, the entire family is upset not to mention our set.

FATHER: This is not a time for levity. The true sphere of woman is in the home. It is the highest, holiest place where human agency can act. Any circumstance which would draw a woman from that sacred sphere is to be deplored. A woman must always remember that in her home are her true rights and her true duties. I cannot sanction your attendance at college because it will interfere with your supremest happiness. No loving father could do that. Let us hear no more about it.

(Music between curtains)

SCENE III
Graduation Exercises

PLACE: Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

TIME: June 1859.

HORACE MANN: To the Friends and Parents of the Graduates: "In our college we intend, and with the blessing of God, we hope to train our pupils to a practical Christian life. We mean to administer this College as a literary and Christian institution where the mind is to be replenished with knowledge; where the affections are to be trained to duty, and where hands shall be made strong and hearts brave, not only in contending for the right, but in contending against the wrong.

"Education addresses itself especially to the young. And a youthful community, or state, is like a child. This youthful western world is a gigantic youth, and therefore its education must be such as befits a giant. Wherever the capital of the United States may be, this valley will be its seat of empire. No other valley, the Danube, the Ganges, the Nile, or the Amazon, is ever to exert so formative an influence as this upon the destinies of men; and therefore, it must ascend to the contemplation of a future and enduring reign of beneficence and peace.

"But if a poor country needs education, a rich country needs it none the less, because it is the only thing which can chasten the proud passions of man into humility or make any other gift of God a blessing.

"May the influence which flows from this institution help this state to earn for itself the glorious reputation that though wide in extent, exuberant in resources, and abounding in every aid and stimulant of worldly grandeur, it is yet greater, richer, and nobler in the sons and daughters whom it rears. Abolish knowledge, and Ohio—the Beautiful, as its name imparts—is again a wilderness. But perfect education and your children cannot but rise to an elevation as yet unknown. Among all the noble achievements of this state, may noble men and women be its highest."

Presentation of Diplomas

Young Ladies and Gentlemen of the Graduating Class:

"In conferring upon a graduating class the honors of a College Degree it is a well-established custom that the person standing in my place should make an address to those standing in yours. A Diploma is a letter of credit addressed not to an individual but to the world. It purports to say that its bearer has enjoyed superior advantages and therefore that he is qualified to perform duties and to fill places of honor and trust in some degree, proportionate to the advantages he has enjoyed. Hence it is plainly a certificate of education pre-eminence.

"This will be a memorable day in your recollections and in mine and in those of all friends of Antioch

College. It is your Commencement Day. Today finishes your academic career and ushers you into that ampler sphere of honor and duty we call the World. Hence to you this day must be a day full of tender recollections, full of inspiring anticipations. Even now I imagine that that you hear the trumpet of the battle of life sounding in your ears.

"The last words I have to say to you, my young friends, are these:

"You are in the Kingdom of a Divine Majesty who governs His realms according to law. These laws of God pervade all things and they operate with omnipotent force. So you have only to set your head right by knowledge and your heart right by obedience. Before there can be a Christian government, there must be Christian men and women. Be you these men and women.

"While to a certain extent you are to live for yourselves in this life, to a greater extent you are to live for others. Nothing today prevents this earth from being a paradise but error and sin. These errors and sins you must assail. Never shirk, never retreat because of danger. If ever repulsed or stricken down, may you always be solaced and cheered by the exultant cry of triumph over some vice or folly in society, some false opinion or cruelty or guilt which you have overcome.

"And I beseech you to treasure up in your hearts these my parting words:

"Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity."

(Between curtains there should be music, or the school principal, or person in charge, should appear on the front stage to extend greetings.)

EPILOG

In the first part of the final scene an attempt is made to illustrate in reality, and by implication in pantomime, some of the activities of a modern school, as reading, art, science, play, health, music, etc.

While the Poetry Choir recites "Hold Fast Your Dreams," by Louise Driscoll, all participants assemble on and about the stage for the Grand Finale, the singing of "America the Beautiful."

EDUCATION: The educational ideals of Horace Mann are the foundation of our system of education today. First and foremost he held that education should be universal and free—for girls as well as boys; for poor as well as rich. He demanded competent teachers trained in special schools. He believed that the teacher could do his best work only in a spirit of mildness and kindness and thru an understanding of child nature. He believed that instruction should be based upon scientific principles. He emphasized the importance of school libraries. He advocated the raising of school funds by taxation and the creation of correct public opinion on school questions. There is no classroom where the work is not more effective because he lived.

DEMOCRACY: Millions of children now have a better chance in life because of the work of Horace Mann. Our democracy is surer, and our ideals of living and serving are higher because of his leadership. He once said, "Save the children of America from ignorance and you save the Republic."

Our great American public school system owes to him a debt larger than to any other single man. Let America honor him as it honors other noted statesmen who have laid the foundations of its greatness.

"HOLD FAST YOUR DREAMS"

Hold fast your dreams!
Within your heart
Keep one, still, secret spot
Where dreams may go,
And sheltered so,
May thrive and grow—
Where doubt and fear are not.
O keep a place apart,
Within your heart
For little dreams to go!

Think still of lovely things that are not true.
Let wish and magic work at will in you,
Be sometimes blind to sorrow. Make believe,
Forget the calm that lies
In disillusioned eyes.
Though we all know that we must die,
Yet you and I
May walk like gods and be
Even now at home in immortality!

We see so many ugly things—
Deceits and wrongs and quarrelings;
We know, alas! we know
How quickly fade
The color in the west,
The bloom upon the flower,
The bloom upon the breast,
The youth's blind hour.

Yet, keep within your heart
A place apart
Where little dreams may go,
May thrive and grow.
Hold fast—hold fast your dreams!

*(In closing, the chorus and entire cast sing
"America the Beautiful" by Ward)*

Our Tribute

To G. H. S. so staunch and true
Our tribute now we bring to you.
You are our rock, steadfast and strong,
You taught us right and warned of wrong.
Classes of old, classes so new,
But we pay this tribute to you.

MURIEL DELPHIA LUCIER

Class History

TIME: 1947

PLACE: San Quentin

REASON: Public nuisances

CHARACTER: Snake Eye Dilling, Public enemy number 1515, and his partner in crime, Mollie G. Moll.

*Snake Eye and Mollie are awaiting trial by the Supreme Court in their luxurious private cell. The soothing strains of their favorite opera (The Prisoner's Song) is working miracles on their peaceful, sweet disposition.*

SNAKE EYE: I approached the railroad crossing very carefully. I stopped, looked, and listened. All I heard was the car behind me crashing into my gas-tank. I wouldn't have taken that limousine if I had noticed it didn't have a heater. Don't sit there staring at me. Why don't you say something?

MOLLIE: Sorry, dear, I didn't know it was my turn.

S: Oh!

M: Was it one of those F.O.B. Detroit's?

S: No, it was a flivver limousine with a 60 horse-power motor. The only trouble was every horse balked at the same time.

M: Did you drive it yourself?

S: Nobody drove it; it had to be coaxed.

M: I wonder for how long we'll be in here.

S: Maybe ten—say! do you remember what we were doing ten years ago?

M: Robbing a bank?

S: We were graduating from G. H. S. Remember after the mid-year exams you told every one they didn't have a cap and gown to fit you, so you'd still be there next year.

M: Yeh! you nearly started a sit-down strike by telling all the teachers it was a pity they got paid when us kids had to do all the work.

S: I can just picture our class officers of our Freshman year. "Dick" Miller, President.

M: He abdicated after one year and left town.

S: "Al" Prusick and Betty Pierce, Vice Presidents.

M: "Harrie" Lapointe was Treasurer (with no funds) and Secretary "Dot" Ranger was just learning to write so she got the office.

S: Then came the fair. Cheering students, waving banners, blaring bands, thrilling races—

M: Peanuts, popcorn, and chewing-gum!

S: Quiet! Remember the Freshman reception? The upper classmen put up a howl because Freshmen were always under foot. All the girls had sore feet.

M: That isn't in the script.

S: Well it's a good joke anyway.

M: That same year "Heinie" Wondoloski started his famed athletic career. What a man. (sigh)

S: Listen skirt! no double cross. While on the subject I'll never forget the N.R.A. parade. Our banner stated 100% strong and 51% of the class were on the curb.

M: Our "Turkey Day" game was scalped by the "Power Town Indians" 15 to 0, so we all had razzberries instead.

S: To top off the year, the Freshman class led all four honor rolls.

M: There was a change in four years.

S: We started our Sophomore year well by electing Alice Graves, President.

M: We should have a woman as United States president.

S: What system would she use?

M: The "Let-George-do-it" system. (Without any George)

S: "Al" Prusick and Eleanore Conant were Vice Presidents, that same year and "Dot" Ranger, Secretary.

M: Yes, and Harold Lapointe was Treasurer. (Still without funds)

S: That same year the Troop 5 Girl Scouts, under "Dot" Bolton, got swanky and changed their name to Delta Sigma Rho.

M: Two other drastic changes were no more Freshmen entering high school, and the new marking system for citizenship. H, S, IN, and U. (mostly U's)

S: "Heinie" still starred on the football squad and we ended a successful season by tying Turners.

M: The Syncopators Show featured Muriel Lucier's singing. The Sophomore Show took the spot-light with the play "Sunset by Slantsky" with Francis Jones, Merrill Davis, "Gert" Bostley, Eleanore Conant, and you. What a splash for the S. A. S.

S: Me?

M: NO, the show.

S: Harold Lapointe, Nicholas Mushovic, and Edward Harmon Burns kept the ball rolling for the basketball team. The season ended with a total of 18 wins and only 7 defeats.

M: "Louie" Misiun, "Stud" Kalinoski, and "Chet" Totman played baseball that year. Some games!

S: I remember the game you got knocked senseless by a foul ball. When you came to you asked what hit you and they said only a foul. You exclaimed, "Good heavens! a foul! I thought it was a mule."

M: Please restrain yourself. The band made a good showing at Quincy in the state competition and walked away with first place in class D.

S: Yes, and Mary Machaiek walked away with first award in the "Be-Kind-to-Animals" contest.

M: I wonder—is the zebra a black animal with white stripes or a white animal with black stripes?

GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

S: "Charlie" King swung a mean stick for the golf team that year.

M: The Sophomore class ended that year with a good showing on the honor roll. You would have made the honor roll if your mother hadn't sent those cuffs to the laundry.

S: What cuffs?

M: The ones that had the entire history of England on them.

S: In our Junior year Harold Lapointe was President of the class. Alfred Prusick and Eleanore Conant, Vice Presidents, William Stiles, Treasurer, and—

M: And you were Secretary. You know an office is like a hammock; hard to get into comfortably, and still harder to get out of gracefully.

S: The "Shin-kickers" "Louie" Kramer, and Walter Spat certainly kicked good games of soccer that year.

M: The track team walked away with the cup at the fair, the cheering section with the banner, and the students without their voices.

S: Even though we tied Turners at the football game, the gym certainly looked pretty with the blue and white goal posts for the football dance.

M: What a dance the Sophomore reception was. The entertainment was good too. Clifford Ferre danced. Sophie Borowski, Muriel Lucier, and Alice Graves harmonized.

S: "Frannie" Jones and Esther Sprowl played in a "Pair of Lunatics." It was good; they acted so natural.

M: Greenfield beat Turners and then took the four team tourney at M. S. C. just like that. (Snaps fingers, doesn't work)

S: You mean like that. (snaps fingers)

M: Yeh. The girls' basketball team didn't do so bad either. Minnie Rispler, Helen Siano, and Marion White played excellent games even though the boys were not admitted.

S: Wayne Allen, Walter Majewski, "Al" Prusick, and Reginald Wooldridge put G. H. S. on the ice, and the hockey games were something to freeze over.

M: "Dick" Burns, "Charlie" King, "Spike" Mieliski, and "Stan" Pulaski played FORE the green and white golf team.

S: Roger Perry certainly could swing it.

M: I never knew he went in for music.

S: Tennis! the racket!

M: Speaking of music the band came trucking home from Haverhill with high in class B.

S: Remember the time you asked the hurdy-gurdy man if the piece he had just played was by Mozart and he turned around and said, "No, by Handel."

M: Greenfield winning the Valley League Championship in baseball ended that year. Wondoloski, Misiun, and Totman played. What a game when we beat Westfield 5 to 4.

S: Did you see it?

M: No, I read about it.

S: "Al" Prusick was elected President our Senior year with Virginia Dole and "Harrie" Lapointe as Vice Presidents.

M: "Bill" Stiles was elected Secretary, and of course you were Treasurer.

S: When you said the dollar was nothing more than an S that had been double crossed of course—

M: Of course they knew I knew you.

S: At the fair that year we lost both the cup and the banner even though "Heinie" made 19½ points.

M: The Vocational Course started that year. Do you think they accomplished anything in cooking class?

S: Sure I do. I didn't see a tramp around Greenfield after they started.

M: The automobile shop made a wonderful invention that year.

S: What?

M: They invented a speedometer that exhibited a white flag at forty miles per, a red flag at fifty miles per, and at sixty a gramophone starts to play, "I'm Going to be an Angel and With the Angel Dwell."

S: Do you remember the clubs we had?

M: Sure I do and the presidents too. "Doug" Bruce was President of Hi-Y; "Rosie" Turnbull, of Alpha Beta Pi; and "Dot" Bolton, of Delta Sigma Rho.

S: Mary Prentice was President of the Commercial Club; Jennie Kalinowski, of the Art Club; and Winona Jeffers, of the Glee Club.

M: "Ken" Oates was President of the Science Club for the time it lasted. Eleanore Conant, for the Guidance Council; and you were President of the Dramatic Club.

S: John Helbig, was President of the Archery Club; and "Bill" Stiles of the Student Council.

M: Remember the Senior play, "Skidding?"

S: Can I ever forget it?

M: "Dot" Woodward was your dear little "wifie."

S: And "Nick" was my dear little son, and you were my daughter. I remember the time you had to throw a book at him and you sulked because they wouldn't let you throw the Webster dictionary that was in the library.

M: Nancy Ayer was the old maid aunt, and Vera Muir and Helen Lawrence were the sisters with the domestic troubles.

S: "Frannie" Jones was the handsome brute of a leading man and "Chet" Totman, was the politician.

M: "Bob" Levitch was the grandpa who couldn't hear very well, especially when Mr. Osgood spoke to him.

S: "Heinie" Wondoloski, "Al" Prusick, "Ken" Oates, "Stud" Kalinowski, "Bill" Stiles, "Nick" Moshovic, "Dick" and "Sonny" Burns, "Louie" Misiun, and "Spike" Mieleski played on the football squad.

M: We tied Turners that year and afterward had the usual celebration, the football dance. The team didn't make a very good showing on the floor. They probably thought it was easier to face Turners on the field.

S: Muriel Loveland went to Chicago for the 4-H Congrss. She didn't feel so well when she returned so she went to see a "Doc." He asked her how she felt, she said, "Oh sew sew but I seam worse today and have stitches in my side."

M: Yes, and then the "Doc." hemmed and told Muriel that she would mend soon.

S: "Stud" Kalinoski, "Nick" Mushovic, "Louie" Misium, "Mitch" Mroz, and "Spike" Mieleski were the stars on the boys' basketball team. They certainly christened Turners' new gym for them.

M: Helen Siano, Marion White, Arlene Richardson, Barbara Smead, and Doris Morey played for the girls' team.

S: The Guidance Council sold high school emblems to raise money.

M: They would have sold more if the girls hadn't liked the boys' football and basketball letters better.

S: Frank Yetter and "Bobby" Koehler won the Boy Scout Eagle awards.

M: Eleanore Conant attended the D. A. R. Citizenship Conference. Remember the April Fool's edition of the Exponent? The headlines read, "Startling Sum Saves Seniors' School Spirit." Some believed it.

S: It's a funny thing, the amount of money a fellow's father had never cut much figure at high school.

M: No, it was the amount of father's money the son had that cut the figure.

S: The golf team included "Dick" Burns, "Stan" Pulaski, Henry Handfield, Chester Pulaski, Charles King, and "Spike" Mieleski.

M: I know a joke about golf. Once there was a Scotchman who—

S: The baseball team starred "Stud" Kalinoski, "Louie" Misium, "Sunny" Burns, "Nel" Bernard, "Steve" Poulos, and Michael Totaro. I'll never forget the game we had a man on every base and—

M: That was nothing; so did the other side.

S: The band was very active that year and gave several concerts.

M: Did you know cowboy songs are popular again, and almost everyone sings them?

S: Except the cowboys.

M: Esther Sprowl and "Nick" Marini were elected prophet's. They—

S: Shhhh! they are in the next cell.

M: What for?

S: "Nick" was making a campaign speech and he ended by saying, "You can't fool all the people all the time, but it isn't necessary. A majority will do."

M: Will you ever forget Nicholas Mushovic, our Class Marshal? He was so dignified. Just like a good shepherd herding his sheep in the corral to be slaughtered.

S: Remember the Class Day participants during the pageant? They were very interesting.

M: I know, I had to poke you only twice.

S: Well, it's time we visited the courtroom.

M: Oh, dear, it was so much fun talking over old times. You know, "Snakie Wakie", there's something I didn't want to forget to remember to tell you.

S: Well?

M: Well, never mind it wasn't important.

S: Are you ready to go?

M: I remember! We were acquitted four hours ago. Funny how it slipped my mind.

S: "Funny how it slipped my mind." YOU! (Starts towards her in a threatening manner, Mollie calmly turns to audience bows, and leads Snake Eye out by the ear.)

Class Prophecy

TIME: Time's a wastin'.

SETTING: The Hiram Firem Employment Agency—Inc.

CHARACTERS: Madame E. Hammerhead Sprowl, J. J. Finklesnoop Marini.

M: Is this the Hiram Firem Employment Agency?

S: Well, that's what it looks like.

M: I say there, I need some he—

S: Time's a wastin'. Let's get down to business. Name please.

M: J. J. Finklesnoop Marini.

S: No.

M: Yes.

S: I'm Madam Hammerhead Sprowl.

M: No.

S: Yes.

M: Pal.

S: Shake.

M: Say, have you heard what became of that old gang of ours?

S: Well, Marion Mosher turned out to be the world's worst vamp and Ruth Peck is taking lessons from her. "Jimmy" Greene wanted to get in on it, but he didn't have that certain something.

M: I just got a letter from "Butch" Phillips, Jr. He says he's teaching math in a girl's college 'cause he likes figures. "Bob" McIntosh is assistant superintendent. Leonard Martin asked Alice Graves to marry him, but she said "No", so now he's trailing Shirley Cameron.

S: Henry Handfield turned out to be a specialist in "What Makes You Handsome". He gave Helen Dunn an axle-grease massage and Luana Chickering an onion broth shampoo and already you can see marked improvement, (in the axle-grease). "Maxie" Conant gave a dinner the other night, and Charles King was guest of honor. For entertainment Eleanor Jubb crossed a tightrope blindfolded while riding a bicycle and then balanced by her nose on a chair. Say, where do you hang out now that you don't get any more pink slips?

M: Oh, I live up on Shoestring Avenue down by Dictionary Boulevard. I noticed Jennie Kalinowski driving the horses there as I came in. She always did love horses anyway. And speaking of "plugs", have you seen the rodeo? It's pretty good. And "Tommy" Lebert, the wild west cowboy, was afraid of horses—so the management gave him a rocking horse and could he ride that thing! Why, he buckled it back and forth like a maniac and he would have kept it up all day if it hadn't come time for his nap. But "Nursie" Verga Harris gave him his bottle and put him to bed.

S: I thought "Bonnie" Bonneville was quite an attraction. She rode upside down, backwards and side-wise and finally she got so excited, she just changed places and finished up by giving the horse a ride. Dr. Colin Malloch had to shoot the poor thing to put it out of its misery.

M: "Tiny" Maley did a rhumba in the side show and it got so warm inside the tent that ice cubes were furnished to sit on.

S: Doris Barnes did a Fire Dance in another tent but her assistants, "Babs" Nichols and "Tibby" Farrell, blew so much they put it out. By the way, have you noticed "Jimmy" Koldis and his new kiddie car?

M: Mm, Mm. Lorraine Jarvis got so jealous when he gave "Minnie" Grader a ride on the spare wheel that she up and shot him. Now, she's traveling around giving "Bill" Short rides. The only thing is, he makes her fix all the flats while he sits down and gives orders. And does she take them.

S: Another one that's taking orders is "Mike" Totaro. He married Hazel Tirrell cause he craved peace and quiet and now she sits up and waits for him with the rolling pin for company. And Henry Wondoloski, that big, domineering brute, just wilted when "Pup" Ellis told him to mind his own business and do what she told him. He has to rock Junior to sleep every night, now and wishes he had married "Micky" Lucier after all.

M: That's too bad. Did you know some of our classmates have gone into business? "Lizzie" Martin has "Rhythm as Her Business". Francis Jones, the ladies' man, has opened a women's apparel shop. Some of his shapeliest models are "Stud" Kahinoski, Kenneth, "don't feed the horses" Oates, Douglas Bruce and Milton Hodas. Bruce Richason was so cute that he caused too much commotion among the girls and had to be discharged.

S: Walter Spat and "Ray" Stewart have opened a beauty parlor. Lyle Williams, "Al" Gmyrek and Alex Kovalski are assistants. They call it the "Fixem or Slayem" Beauty Shop. The results are usually disastrous. Their best customers are "Romeo" Woods and Raymond Wheeler. "Ray's" had his face lifted twice and still it doesn't help. "Romeo" knows he's perfect so he's satisfied with just a facial now and then.

M: The two beauty parlor experts decided that Louise Looney needed remodelling, so they took some off here and put some on there and when they got through, they shovelled up the pieces, put them in an envelope and sent her home.

S: Thoughtful boys. Did you know that "Dot" King and Barbara Noyes have opened up a cookie shop? The only trouble is, they eat up all the profit before they can sell it and now they are facing bankruptcy.

M: "Tidy" Jacobs has become the editor of the "Bi-Daily Hooey" and her only trouble is, she can't get Nelson Bernard and "Winnie" Greene to have their pictures taken with rompers and a lolly-pop to put on the front page.

S: It told in the papers the other day how "Gertie" Bostley had entered a Back Scratcher's Endurance contest and had walked away with all the prizes with a record of scratching "Fleas" LaFleur's back for 48 hours without losing a scratch.

M: Who'd have ever thought that "Chuck" Hamilton and "Junie" Greenwood would ever get hitched? Oh what a party! "Georgie" Howes, "the boy who eats to live and lives to eat", was flower girl. While he was waddling down the aisle, he tripped and knocked the bride right on her head, but "Nick" Mushovic was right there to pick her up. He's never missed picking a female up yet.

S: Speaking of pick ups, Anna Korzon was out riding and came across a man. She gave him a lift and when she found out he was Floyd Lanfair, she decided to take him stepping. And Elaine "Jack-in-the Beanpot" Partenheimer hired a bus so she could have more of the male atmosphere around her.

M: Waldo Severance and wife, "Dodo" Butler Severance, have taken their second honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Waldo isn't all wet yet. While they were there, they found "Bert" Rawson, now Mrs. Francis Reim, with hubby dear. He has become a botanist and specializes in raising dogwood and poison ivy.

S: Jr. Lyons is an expert antique collector now. Some of his prize collections are "Lizzie" Bray, "Silla" Babcock, Winona Jeffers and Barbara Barnuzzi. That boy's going places.

M: With which one? I stopped in to the champion hog-callers' Marion White, "Dot" Elmore and Mary Guglielmo's "Choke & Croak Coffee Shoppe". After I managed to get out there, I had to visit Dr. "Mike" DeNofrio to see if he could get the mud out of my stomach. After I had recovered, I was hungry again so I went over to Louise Betters' "Greasy Spoon" Dine and Die Joint, and there was "Bill" Stiles washing dishes. The cooks were Rita Chevalier, "Lizzie" Wells and Helen Babino. Annamae Cropper was making soup. "Steve" Poulos ate it as fast as she slapped it together. Anything to please the ladies.

S: "Phil" Johnson has become a preacher. His subject is "How to Eat Soup Without Gurgling." He gives demonstrations using the Podlesny twins as specimens. While one blows on it, the other slurps. Quite a system.

M: Speaking of twins, "Connie" Maniatty finally married "Gertie" Rice and they've left the Dionnes in the dust. The stork dropped in for a visit and left seven little angels. "Connie" calls them Miss Fortune, Miss Take, Pete, Re-Pete, Nuff, E. Nuff, and Quits.

S: "Connie" did all right by himself. I guess most of our classmates are married. "Al" Prusick, President of Poland, has made Ellen Davis the first lady. Olga Samal fooled us and became an ambassadress to Russia and Marion Sullivan has taken Ireland and made it sit up and take notice. Mary Prentice went on a sit-down strike ten years ago because she thought the price of chewing gum was too high. Donald Mayberry has been trying to pick her up for eight years, but she's grown so fat he can't budge her. Alfred Hansli wants to be a doodle bug but doesn't know how to flit, so Ruth Graves is going to give him flitting lessons.

M: "Bobby" Koehler has started an Old Maid's Home and is president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and board of directors. Those who have made out applications are "Mae" Johnson, Lillian Suhl, Anna Starkey, and "Dot" Woodward is contemplating applying. "Joe" Machaiek, the great music maestro, has composed a piece on his bass drum, "Mutiny in B Flat", and it surely is flat. "Bob" Levitch banged his piano so hard he broke it in the middle and now he has to play on a sweet potato because that is the only thing that can stand his pressure. "Tommy" Behaylo has become a whiz at playing the victrola and Donald Burkhill is touring East Chiloppe playing the radio.

S: How clever. What geniuses! "Alex" Cocco has invented a wingless and motorless airplane that is guaranteed. Orrin Carroll has guaranteed to fly it and Alice Boncek has guaranteed to send Orrin daisies after he's gone. "Eddie" Sanborn has a job working the steam whistle on "Pete" Danforth's peanut roaster. "Pete" has opened a stand right across from "Billy" Devino, the multi-millionaire "zipper skin" banana manufacturer. Urson Otto has an automobile factory and his slogan is "Our Otto guarantees knee-action." John Moquin is test driver. He hits "Joe" Greene's head against the car and if the car can hold up under it, it's O.K.

M: Say, you should live up in the neighborhood I'm living in now. Mary Machaiek has a store there where she sells used rubber bands at half price. "Teddy" Ozdarski and Norman Morey built my house and even though the roof's caving in, the floor's falling through and the paint's all off, it's still not so bad to look at. Vera Muir is my chief cook and bottle washer and in her spare time she kills mosquitoes. "Jimmy" Luippold is my personal valet, but I have to watch him because last week he hired Pauline Gashnig to decorate my room and by the time she got through, I had to sleep on a shelf. Ann Norwood has a shack right across the street and she and "Kate" Murphy are two old maids. "Kate" is still trying to snare a man. Ann gave up long ago. John Joseph Varily lives upstairs over me and when he gets going it seems as though the house were coming down. He had a party last night and John Ostroski and Zildora LaShier did an "Apache Dance". John slung "Zel" up in the air but he wasn't quick enough on the back drop. "Zel" landed in the flower pot. The punch was passed out by Anna Parley and Doris Mowry. Betty Pierce and Paul Glazier got quite gay with "Ginny" Garrand on the chandeliers, and Edward Liston gave an exhibition of funny faces. Eleanor Newcomb chewed lead pencils when the sandwiches were all gone and to top it off Chester Pulaski drowned in the bathtub. The party ended by the police patrol taking them all to the insane asylum. Where have you been lately, babe???

S: Oh, around. I went to the movies the other night and did I get a surprise. Jean Helen Siano Harlow and Robert Chester Totman Taylor got into such a love scene they had to call the fire department. Since Mickey Mouse died, Edward Sak's been taking his place. On the stage there was an amateur show. "Lizzie" Wait sang "Osh Kosh B'Gosh Dosh" from the opera "Jomeo and Roulette". Major "Bill" Bowe gave her the gong. Stella White sang "The Upside Down Blues" while standing on her head and Isabelle Unitis recited poetry. Donald Williams played "Oh Misery" on his bazooka and Margaret Wheeler sat on the piano and moaned out "Minnie the Moocher". Gong! The grand finale was a beauty contest. The contestants were Ella Archer, Evelyn Cramer, Dorothy Duffy and Lois Bouker. The judges were "Bill" Ball and Richard Barber. It was a struggle, but Edith Morin simply dazzled them and walked off with both the prizes and the judges. Mentor Metaxas starred in his first reel picture, "When I Grow Up."

M: Speaking of professions, "Eddie" Burns and "Tommy" Manning wanted to be cops but their feet weren't flat enough. Remember "Walt" Laskey, the "Mad Russian"? He quit selling spuds and went back home to be the Czar. He took his little "Czardines", Evelyn and Marion Clark, with him.

S: "Dot" Bond and "Lulu" Borowski competed in a jump rope contest but Wayne Allen pulled the rope and both girls looked like flying Dutchmen. The rope was bought at "Steffy" Bednarski's "Thoroughbred Rope Store." Her slogan is "If you don't like our rope, you can go hang". "Bill" Barry sits outside her store selling hot-buttered popcorn, but Winona Bonner snubs him by eating cracker-jacks from "Dickie" Briggs' "Guzzle, Gobble and Gulp" Delicatessen. "Dot" Bolton was in a style show featuring what the well dressed women of 1975 will wear. She modelled shoes made of innertubes. Merrill Davis featured the men's fashions by appearing in a sheep's skin—a wolf in sheep's clothing. Edith Carver had awnings on her head and Rita Dion showed the latest in mosquito netting. "Jimmy" Dubino was charming in a suit of armor to protect himself from Emma Hall. To top it all Rosamond Turnbull appeared in board stretchers and sky hooks. Nancy Ayer was there on stilts giving "Dicka-Wicka" Burns a ride on piggy-back.

M: I had so much fun at the Walnut Grove the other night. I danced with all the girls and "Ginnie" Dole and I got a prize for the worst dancing. "Johnny" Duda, the president of the "Tasty Toothpick Company", was there with Ruth Gardner, and later, John Garcia and Charlotte Gadomski came twittering in. "Sivvie" Fielding and Renee Jeffs are waitresses there and you can always be sure you'll get your soup down your back. "Honey" Ethier put his foot through the drum and "Bill" Evarts blew soap bubbles in "Bill" Foley's saxophone. Barbara Freese came out and imitated Pluto, the pup, but got pulled in with a hook by manager "Art" Fournier. About 11:00 o'clock, the place was held up by two gangsters, "Toughy" Ferrante and "Bob" Fritz. They had their girl friends with them "Dot" Ranger and "Betty" Harris, but the girls took one look at Elbert Haskins and John Helbig and the hold-up was called off. Myrtle Harris danced for the club and "Gina" Hutchinson sang. In a few minutes everyone was carried out on stretchers with broken eardrums.

S: I visited Kenneth Howe's Animal Cracker Factory and I found "Millie" Keller hiding behind a barrel of flour. Harriet Jenest greased the elephant producing machine for "Johnny" Kopec, and "Al" Johnson counted the teeth in the donkey's mouth, while Kathleen Whitney sprayed the gorilla's (Robert Weir's) tonsils with "Sweet Essence of Tulips." "Lizzie" Wondoloski entertained the animal crackers during the lunch hours with bedtime stories and crooned Frank Yetter to sleep as a side-line. After I left there, I went over to visit "Jennie" Stahelek's "Bughouse for the Buggy". Louis Kramer and "Johnny" Merz are having stiff competition to see who will be Napoleon, and "Reggie" Wooldridge, Jr. took Harold Turner apart to see what made him tick.

M: When I visited there, Lois Thompson and Leonard Trudeau were trying to hang by their feet from the window sill. Jesse Tuttle stood below with a frying pan to catch them if they fell. Richard Sanders had been trying to get Virginia Parker to pay him $5.00 to haunt "Frannie" Scully's house, but "Spike" Mieleski got the job.

S: "Herby" Shumway and "Sherm" Smith, those two desperadoes, have a price on their heads of two bits each. I'd like to get the reward. "Walt" Schneider kidnapped "Katy" Sears and no one will pay the 50 cents ransom. Willard Severance will have to dust off his trusty steed and rescue the fair damsel.

M: Speaking of damsels, Charles Sokoloski has a theatre. He already has Ruth Simpter, Barbara Smead and Francis Schultz on the stage, and anyone else can try out by application if she can meet the qualifications. They must have arms, legs, feet and a head and be able to make a lot of noise like Helen Sokolosky. He also adds he likes them plump and pretty like "Mimi" Powers.

S: "Sleepy" Lapointe's grown awfully fat. He got so sick of sitting up every day because it made him too tired, so now he hibernates. He just gets up during June to gaze at buttercups and then he goes back to sleep again. John Krejmas and Violet Merriott have opened up a printing shop. They specialize in blank pads. They keep "Sophie" Kunasko around to see that the machines are well oiled. Helen Lawrence stands by the window and blows to keep the air circulating.

M: Remember how "Little Sammy" Solomon used to see if the girls were home at night? Well, he married "Gertie" Pierce, the gorilla girl in Stanley Pulaski's circus. Last I heard, "Art" Stone was going to buy a gun to go fishing with. Have you heard that Gordon Pfersick is running a school?

S: Yes, he's hired Kenneth Patenaude for principal. Irene Leukhardt and Muriel Loveland are planning to graduate from kindergarten this year. Louis "Tough Guy" Misiun is blackboard washer and "Marjie" St. Cyr is scrubwoman. "Mitch" Mroz and Hilda Perrault are going to move into the poor farm this week. Eleanor Pierce lives there and so does Mary Stebbins. Now they can play bridge. "Bill" Pierce is taking the place of the dumb waiter and Arlene Richardson is chief can opener. Rose Rogalski and "Connie" Teranova polish doorknobs and feed the little birdies.

M: I'm glad to hear our class is doing so well. I must be going. I have a date with Minnie Rispler at 3:00 and it's 5:00 now.

S: But how about the employee you want?

M: Oh you keep it.

S: But I don't want it.

M: But I insist.

S: O.K. Thanks.

M: 'Bye pal.

S: 'Bye.

Ivy Ode

---

(TUNE: "In the Gloaming")

Alma Mater, we salute thee,
As we plant this ivy here.
May it grow as we'll be growing
In the future, year by year.

Chorus

Alma Mater, you have taught us
Ideals for a noble soul,
And the climbing, twining ivy
Points us to this lofty goal.

May we strive on upward, higher,
Following the ivy's lead.
We'll remember what's been taught us,
And we'll then be glad to heed.

Words by RUTH VIRGINIA GRAVES '57

Class Song

---

(TUNE: "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling")

The class of thirty-seven
Salutes our G. H. S.
And we wish our Alma Mater
A full measure of success.
And as we leave your portals
On life's long road we'll be,
No matter where our paths lead
We always will think of thee.

For you have taught us honor
And shown us victory
But though these seem sufficient
We have given loyalty.
And when the path seemed rocky
Scholarship has pulled us through.
We have fulfilled our motto
And all this we owe to you.

The class of thirty-seven
Salutes our Greenfield High
And we find it is not easy
When at last we say good-bye.
We'll keep our faces forward
And our footsteps will not stray
From the good start that you gave us
On the straight and narrow way.
